Officers Serving the Congregation but not on Council:

Financial Secretary: Janet Hula	Treasurer: Margie Sutej

The regular meeting of the Council was held April 8th. The Council members shared their prayer concerns: Care for those in need of healing – Greg Hula’s nephew, Brian Hula, for Sarah’s Grandmother, Olive Laaker, for Grace’s brother Ted Olson; care for those within the Grace family that they continue to heal; we pray for Ambrose who is continuing to gain strength; we pray for Ivo’s safety; we pray for all who have lost loved ones and that they remain both hopeful and faithful; we pray for an end to all of the unrest and conflict in the world; we pray for Tom Vondra with praise and rejoice in his recovery; we pray with praise for the births of both Madeleine Leann Anzalone and Abigail Josephine Hegarty. Pastor led devotions from Micah 7:7 and 2 Corinthians 6:4. In Micah, we learn of a prophet predicating bleakness in the world but for the faithful to look toward God for salvation. In 2 Corinthians, Paul says commended means that we have proven ourselves faithful through all the endurance and hardships in life. Looking back at life there is “no scorekeeping”; that the hardships are badges of life and we can still be faithful through all our endurance.

Visions for Ministry: The Council is reading Effective Small Churches in the Twenty-first Century by Carl S. Dudley. Please read Chapter 3 “Growth by Adoption” and work on the exercises in the book by the next meeting.

Reports were received from the Financial Secretary and the Treasurer. Please continue to give generously.

Christian Education: A few people met to brainstorm on April 2, 2008 to plan our new mid-week Education effort. The next meeting is scheduled on May 7th at 7:00 p.m.; please plan to attend if interested. Vacation Bible School is scheduled during the week of June 23rd.

Evangelism/Outreach: The Kids At Work welcome dinner will be held on Wednesday, June 4th at 6:30 p.m.

Finance: The Endowment Board will meet on Sunday, April 13th.

Property: Don and Ron Rosenbaum with Perfection Cleaning cleaned and waxed the Upper Fellowship Hall, Sanctuary, both kitchens, all bathrooms and the Lower Fellowship Hall.

Service/Social Ministry: The Task Force for ELCA Studies on Sexuality has released the “Draft Social Statement on Human Sexuality.” It is now available for study. If anyone would like to read it prior to a study event, please contact Pastor Laaker. Neighbors’ South Coalition of Habitat for Humanity will be building a house for a family from Northern Africa. The family is Malyun Fathal and her five sons, the house is located at 3020 W Street.

Support/Stewardship: No new report.

Continued

Worship: Ragazzi Choir and Heartland Choir from Des Moines will be holding a concert here at Grace on Saturday, April 19th at 7:00 p.m. The Choir will then participate in our Sunday morning worship service on April 20th. Grace will provide a sack lunch for all the choir members after the worship service.

Unfinished Business: No new report.

New Business: There is the potential for an intern to participate here at Grace. Pastor will be in Chicago for a SCUPE Conference and will conduct an interview with the intern. Lutheran School of Theology has put out a request for a placement of an Intern in the Inner-city. This placement would help further the education of the Intern.

Announcements: A Letter from the Synod informing the congregation of Pastor Henry Gittler's 50th anniversary of his ordination was received.

Sarah will bring treats for our May meeting.

Ice Cream Is Good For the Soul

"Last week I took my children to a restaurant. My six-year-old son had asked if he could say grace. As we bowed our heads, he said, "God is good. God is great. Thank you for the food, and I would even thank you more if Mom gets us ice cream for dessert. And liberty and justice for all. Amen."

Along with the laughter from the other customers nearby, I heard a woman remark, "That's what's wrong with this country. Kids today don't even know how to pray. Asking God for ice-cream. Why, I never."

Hearing this, my son burst into tears and asked me, "Did I do it wrong? Is God mad at me?" As I held him and assured him that he had done a terrific job and God was certainly not mad at him, an elderly gentleman approached the table. He winked at my son and said, "I happen to know that God thought that was a great prayer."

"Really?" my son asked.

"Cross my heart." Then, in a theatrical whisper, he added (indicating the woman whose remark had started this whole thing), "Too bad she never asks God for ice cream. A little ice cream is good for the soul sometimes."

Naturally, I bought my kids ice cream at the end of the meal. My son stared at his ice cream for a moment and then did something I will remember the rest of my life. He picked up his sundae and, without a word, walked over and placed it in front of the woman. With a big smile he told her, "Here, this is for you. Ice cream is good for the soul sometimes, and my soul is good already."

Pray about a
New Opportunity
Here at Grace Church

God moves in mysterious ways his wonders to perform. I am consistently surprised by God. You may recall that following my first Sabbatical in 1997 I returned to work bringing two new ideas that God had laid on my heart. Those ideas are now ministries that serve others, Kids at Work and Interfaith Health Service.

Last year, I returned from Sabbatical thankful for the time away. God has tugged at my heart to try something new but the opportunity didn't seem right. Either I was reluctant to step out and see if it was something we might try or it wasn't God's time. Well, God's time seems to have presented itself once again.

Three weeks ago, my Synod Staff colleagues put in my hand a request from the Lutheran School of Theology for a special consideration of an Intern site in Omaha. Now, I have thought about Grace being a wonderful place where an Intern might learn a lot about pastoral leadership. I just never could figure out how or even if this was a real possibility.

Two weeks ago, I shared this idea with the Congregation Council. Since none of us had given it much thought, our best thinking that evening was "it sounds like an intriguing idea. How will it affect you, Pastor?" Each person expressed their thoughts and then as a group encouraged me to learn more about the Internship program and interview the young woman for whom the request was made.

This past week, I was in Chicago attending the SCUPE (Seminary Consortium on Urban Pastoral Education) Congress. This was a marvelously wonderful educational experience. While there, I had the opportunity to interview Angela Khabeb. We had a delightful conversation. Our shared desire was to try and make this work. God must be in this.

I believe Grace would be a wonderful place for Angela to learn and practice her skills in pastoral ministry. The description in the material from Lutheran School of Theology says, "An internship is designed so that the intern can gain experience in all aspects of parish life. This offers an opportunity to test out more comprehensively the strengths and weaknesses of the student's preparation for pastoral ministry."

There are a number of things that must be figured out. Things like, how do we pay for this ministry, where might she and her family live, etc. However, trusting that this is a God motivated possibility, I ask you to include this in your prayers. Ask God to help us work out the details. Ask God to bless this, if it is to be. Ask God to help us be the best place for an Intern to serve.

In a recent Sunday morning message, I said that God has not called us to play it safe. God has called us to live our faith in a trusting relationship with God. I trust God is calling us in this direction. Will you join me in praying, planning, and acting on this call from God?

If you are a Lutheran, I am your pastor in prison ministry in Nebraska. I am called by the Nebraska Synod on your behalf to serve in all 10 Correctional Facilities. We are in partnership.

Now having said that, please get excited with me about Women of the Bible, a one woman performance put on by Anita Gutschick, a professional actor and devout Christian from Maryland. I have witnessed Anita's gifts personally and know the impact on faith she brings. That is why I prevailed upon her to come to Nebraska, bring her gifts to the inmates, and share with the congregations of Omaha and Lincoln.

Interfaith Health Service and Latinas in Action Celebrate Family Day.

This month, thanks to a new partnership with the Junior League, initiated by Faith in Action Director, Julie Chytil, Faith in Action, Interfaith, Douglas County and the Junior League hosted a family day at Columbus Park. Julie is to be commended for sharing her enthusiasm for our Latinas in Action program with the Junior League and for making it possible to incorporate a day of celebration for Latinas in Action participants.

All of Interfaith's staff, (Gema, me, Julie, Blanca,) along with Gaby, Patty, and a core committee of Latinas in Action participants were responsible for planning the day in some way and ensuring its success. It was also a way for all of us to honor our participants for their commitment to health and education in winning a National Award for their program.

Junior League members showed up in full force for the day, as well. Over a dozen members helped provide assistance, financial support and door prizes. It was wonderful to meet Phyllis from the League who speaks excellent Spanish, Karen, who works with my friend, Jewel, at the Food Bank, Leslie, who will be chairing all children's events next year, as well as many other talented and generous member of the Junior League.

Our Latinas in Action Participants organized in various teams to lead events like the sack race, abdominal crunch challenge, tunnel travel and various other physical activities designed for the entire family. Many of the spouses of our participants took part in the day. While we had hoped to hold the majority of activities outside, the weather did not cooperate, so we made ourselves at home inside the large gym and accompanying space.

The day included an abbreviated aerobics class taught by our lead instructors, Ilda and Aurora for the entire family. Food and festivities and a potluck for the children and adults capped off the day with small prizes for many participants. Gema and Gaby did an amazing job of being everywhere to take photos, talk on the microphone/speaker system, help keep folks to a schedule and answer all the questions of participants.

We were proud to come together as a team to make the day possible and to intentionally set apart a celebratory day where families could be together and socialize.

I look forward to the Summer, our Super Kids Club program, and additional times for families from Interfaith's outreach ministry programs to be together in celebrating Interfaith's wonderful programs in the community.

F A I T H
I N A C T I O N

This month, I'd like to share a story about a special care receiver. "Ruth" has been a part of the Faith in Action program for just over a year. She lives alone except for her dogs. When I talk with Ruth I learn so many interesting things about her life. She is always willing to share cooking tips and her thoughts on current events in the world. I feel like I know her family because she speaks of them often. "Ruth" has some family helping her with getting groceries and other necessities and the Faith in Action program also helps out when needed. The story of "Ruth" is not uncommon. Many people right here in our community are just like "Ruth". They are living alone, feeling lonely and just looking for some companionship. I know like most of you, I'm busy with my own family and their needs and sometimes I find the thought of helping someone else impossible. However, when I actually do it, when I actually pick up her groceries and visit with her for a few minutes, I think, how do I not have time for this?

The Faith in Action program is active right here in your church! We are always looking for volunteers and people that need help.

Julie Chytil

From the Editor

The news these past few weeks has been frightening and confusing. Gas prices rising and the general fear about how we will continue to support ourselves through these difficult financial times, politicians campaigning with passion but continually called upon to defend and clarify their stances and beliefs...in short, not much good news. I struggle with the desire to live in a world where there is only smooth sailing and wanting to shy away from the things that God may ask me to do that would upset my secluded world.

This morning I found myself reading in the book of Hebrews. Chapter 11 is filled with examples of people who found themselves having to make a choice between cowering or taking hold of the faith that they had and moving ahead in obedience to God—Abel, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Sarah, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, Joshua and the Jericho experience, Rahab the prostitute who hid the spies sent out to scope out the promised land. The writer, Paul, has to stop himself from expounding on more people of the Bible because there are so many more examples in the Old Testament of folks whose faith was tested. In verses 32-38, he just starts listing all of the different ways these Bible characters were tested and how they overcame their trials through acts of faith with God's help.

Over and over this past week, the phrase, “Looking to Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith” has run through my head. (Hebrew 12:2a) It is easy for me to see how Jesus is the author of my faith but I don’t think it’s as simple for me to look at Him as the finisher of my faith. I know that my redemption, the freedom from the punishment of sin ,came only because Jesus Christ came as a man, still retaining his deity, to wipe out the penalty of sin (death) on the cross so that I can come before God boldly. However, when it comes to working through how my faith will be put in practice, I tend to take that upon myself. I push myself ahead spiritually or hang my head in shame if I feel that I have fallen short of the mark that I think God has set for me. I suffer from the “I want to do it myself” attitude. Frankly, there is a lot of stress in that. No wonder if feel like I’ve been put through the wringer. When my own child had that attitude, I let her find out the consequences, knowing there was a better way. How often God must have to stand back and let the circumstance of my folly play out, waiting patiently for me to turn to Him and yell for help!

I must confess that lately there are some circumstances that I have tried to overcome on my own. As my friend, Brenda, would say, You’re living in “Egypt...in denial.” (de Nile) . Excuse the pun! If God is indeed the finisher of my faith, I need to change my attitude about those things. Running this race is a waste of time if I’m not on the track God has set for me because even if I am making good time, I’m going nowhere.

Here is the plan God has for me...and for you. Let’s step up to it!

“Strip down, start running—and never quit! No extra spiritual fat, no parasitic sins. Keep your eyes on Jesus, who both began and finished this race we’re in. Study how he did it. Because he never lost sight of where he was headed—that exhilarating finish in and with God—he could put up with anything along the way: Cross, shame, whatever. And now he’s there, in the place of honor, right alongside God. When you find yourselves flagging in your faith, go over that story again, item by item, that long litany of hostility he plowed through. That will shoot adrenaline into your souls!”

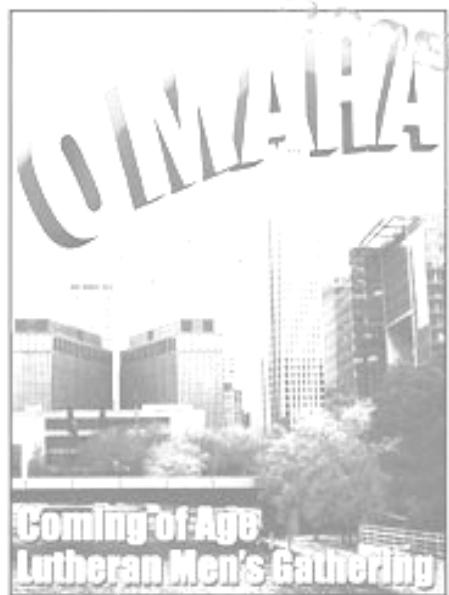

(Hebrews 12:1-3, The Message)

*On August 1-3, 2008,
Lutheran men of all ages will gather in Omaha, Nebraska to celebrate 20 years of ministry and launch the next great step.*

Coming of Age! It's A Book... It's A Conference...

It's a Movement in the church to "come of age" and reach out to and connect with younger men August 1-3, 2008, men of all ages will gather in Omaha, NE, under the same theme verse as the founders, "...your old men will dream dreams, your young men will see visions." (Acts 2:17).

Featured speakers include Tom Osborne, athletic director, University of Nebraska, Lincoln. Osborne was head football coach of the Cornhuskers for 25 years, helping the school claim three national titles before he was inducted in 1999 to the College Football Hall of Fame. Nebraska's 3rd Congressional District elected him to three terms during 2001-2007 in the U.S. House of Representatives.

The "Coming of Age" theme has a twofold meaning. LMM is marking its 20th anniversary by becoming a financially self-reliant, separately-incorporated ministry of the ELCA.

The theme also refers to a spirituality project LMM undertook to understand what churches can do to engage young men between the ages of 18 and 34. As part of the project, 88 young men from across the United States participated in extensive interviews. Sixteen of those interviewed organized the LMM Young Men's Ministry Council. The results of the project were presented in the book, "Coming of Age: Exploring the Identity and Spirituality of Younger Men." The gathering's purpose is to bring men of all ages into a deeper relationship with God and assist younger and older men in building intergenerational relationships.

"We will serve, we will play, we will learn, we will worship, we will encounter God — and each other — and we will grow" said Doug Haugen, Director, Lutheran Men in Mission, ELCA offices.

A 48,000-square-foot interactive center will include room for building Habitat for Humanity sheds, high-ropes courses and other games.

The gathering will be preceded by the 2008 LMM Assembly July 31- Aug. 1. The organization's triennial business session will elect a president to succeed Heber Rast, Cameron, S.C., and other officers and board members. Rast will complete his second three-year term. The assembly will adopt a budget for LMM and celebrate the organization becoming an incorporated, self-funded ministry of the ELCA with a full-time staff.

A pediatrician in town always plays a game with some of his young patients to put them at ease and test their knowledge of body parts.

One day, while pointing to a little boy's ear, the doctor asked him, "Is this your nose?"

Immediately the little boy turned to his mother and said,
"Mom, I think we'd better find a new doctor!" wwwgcfl.com

"Oh Lord, help me to keep my big mouth shut until I know what I am talking about."
