Officers Serving the Congregation but not on Council:

Financial Secretary: Janet Hula Treasurer: Margie Sutej

The regular meeting of the Council was held June 9th. The Council members shared their prayer concerns: Care for those in need of healing; Ron's neighbor Angelo, care for those within the Grace family that they continue to heal; Ambros Lado and his struggle with cancer, Mickey Andersen and her foot pains. Pastor led devotions from 1 Chronicles 22.13 and Luke 10.3. The first encourages us to "get to work." The second sends us out to perform these works, with the confidence that the Lord will be with us.

Visions for Ministry: The Council is reading "Radical Welcome" by Stephanie Spellers. Please read pages 63-74 in the book by the next meeting.

Reports were received from the Financial Secretary and the Treasurer. Please continue to give generously Christian Education: Faith Quest will resume in August when school resumes.

Evangelism/Outreach: Kids At Work has begun.

Finance: Council reviewed the end of Internship and the plans for a continued ministry relationship with Angela through this calendar year. A letter will be sent to the congregation regarding these plans.

Property: A property damage claim has been submitted to Church Mutual. This is the result of the hail damage in June 2008. The Tuesday night Morris Wave dancers have informed us that they are no longer going to meet.

Service/Social Ministry: No new report.

Support/Stewardship: The Fall Campaign theme will be "Empowered by God, responding by Grace."

Worship: Ms. Laird will remain with us throughout the summer and then reevaluate her position. Volunteer nursery attendants might be helpful for families with toddlers.

Unfinished Business: Plans are in place for Pastor Laaker's 30th Anniversary of Ordination celebration on June 14th.

New Business: A review of the Nebraska Synod Assembly was shared with council.

Announcements: Pastor will be at a Seminary reunion June 23-25 in Chicago. Confirmation camp will be July 5-10. Sarah Emery will bring treats and lead prayer for our July meeting.

Fear! It is ever before us, behind us, in us. I have written briefly on its effects previously. However, I was touched by the words written by Stephanie Spellers, in Radical Welcome, the book the Congregation Council is reading this year.

In it she writes: “Fear is never the final word in any story with God. Far more often, the bold act of acknowledging fear starts a new chapter. For Christians, that is the whole story of the resurrection. We are invited to participate in Christ’s death and in his resurrection, to let the power that destroyed death now free us to be the living body of Christ...

That resurrection does not simply come on some unknown but imagined day when God will raise all those who have lived in God’s embrace. It is a resurrection we can experience whenever we face death, all the tiny deaths that threaten to sap our souls. It is a resurrection that allows us to occupy a completely new posture in our daily lives. If death is not the end, if God’s power defeats any enemy, including the most fearsome of all, then we can step forward and proclaim, hope, serve, and love without fear. Rainer Maria Rilke shares this stirring promise in one of his Love Poems to God:

God speaks to each of us as he makes us
then walks with us silently out of the night.
These are the words we dimly hear:

You, sent out beyond your recall,
go to the limits of your longing.
Embody me.
Flare up like flame
and make big shadows I can move in.

Let everything happen to you: beauty and terror.
Just keep going. No feeling is final.
Don’t let yourself lose me.

Nearby is the country they call Life.
You will know it by its seriousness.

Give me your hand.

“If we know ourselves to be unconditionally loved like that, if we know even death is not the end, Henri Nouwen points out, we are dangerously free to love and surrender all for Christ. We can go anywhere, even if it means we might be rejected, even if it means we have to look deep into the heart of our own fear. We can go to the most terrifying place in the world, because we know we are ‘loved beyond [the] boundaries’ of the world.”

It is so easy to get caught in fearful thinking. I remember well conversations that I had with members of Grace some 20+ years ago; conversations that expressed fears about the survival of Grace congregation. As I recall, I asked the question, “what do you think God wants to happen here, now?” I think that question continues to be a very important question. “What do you think God wants to happen here, now?”

God continues to surprise me with ministry opportunities that push me to explore those “fearful” places. I am grateful for God’s tender mercy and surrounding love that encourages me to take God’s hand and walk confidently into the future.

I invite you to consider the question, pray for wisdom, seek God’s guidance and boldly trust God’s leading. Someone once said, “we cannot out give God.” Lord, may I fully trust your leading. May I place myself into your hand. Bless us, I pray. Amen.

Pastor Laaker

The Vicar's Voice

“I give thanks to my God always for you . . .” I Corinthians 1:4

They say that time flies when you're having fun. Well, believe it or not, sisters and brothers, I have reached the end of my internship. Therefore, this is my last official newsletter article as your Vicar. But not to worry, I will still be around in a limited capacity. But even still, I thought it only fitting to reflect upon my year with you at Grace. My internship has been an enriching and rewarding experience that has further solidified my commitment to parish ministry. I have always felt a strong sense of call throughout most of my life. But serving with you all has awakened a spirit of ministry within me.

Through my time with you, I have developed a healthy respect for the call to ordained ministry. I am mindful that this calling touches every facet of my life and the lives of the people around me. That is why I count it a joy and a privilege to offer my gifts and talents in service to the body of Christ. Although the thought of branching out is, at times, intimidating, I trust that God's sustaining power will enable me to "lead a life worthy of the gospel of Christ" (Philippians 1:27). I also trust that as I grow and mature, my life will reflect God's love and grace to the community in which I will serve. I pray that, as an ordained member of the body of Christ, I will be able to assist my Christian sisters and brothers as we each live out our individual and corporate faith journeys.

I have learned so much during this process. You all have taught me a lot about parish ministry. I have learned the importance of being a transparent leader who is willing to live under the accountability of the people I serve. Through my time with you, I have also learned a lot about myself. This experience has encouraged me to strive to live a life marked by holy living and a faithful witness. Certainly I am far from perfect. But, with God's help, I will be able to live a life that reflects the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Thank you so much to all of my sisters and brothers of Grace Lutheran Church. No matter where I go or what I do, you all will be permanently etched in my heart. Although I hesitate to thank people by name (for fear of an oversight on my part) I would be remiss if I did not acknowledge at least a few people.

Of course Pastor Laaker! Pastor Laaker has acted as an excellent supervisor and mentor by providing ample opportunity to experience the fullness of parish life. He has been marvelous and has encouraged me to try new and different things. Through his efforts, I have become a more confident and competent leader.

I also owe a special debt of gratitude to my internship committee members; Arlone Farber, David Huford, Greg Hula, Marsha Moyer, Ernie Olson, and Amanda Vazquez. These wonderful behind-the-scenes people faithfully worked to ensure the success of my internship. They have been very supportive and caring and have freely offered me their time, guidance, and compassion. Through their loyal and loving actions, I am fully convinced that my internship committee members genuinely care about me both personally and professionally. It has truly been a rewarding relationship.

Thank you again to my entire Grace family for helping to shape my future pastoral identity.

With love,

Vicar Angela Khabeib

This Summer at VBS

We will be going to ROME to visit
Paul and the Underground Church

Monday, July 20th

through

Friday, July 24th, 2009

Evenings: 6:00 pm to 8:00 pm.

Everyone, please save these dates and plan to join in the fun!

My hope is that you would begin collecting items at your home and bring them to church beginning Sunday, June 28th. Our list of needed items will continue to grow, and it will be posted on the Rome bulletin board in the upper fellowship hall.

Most importantly, many volunteers are needed to truly “show” the children how the early Christian Church might have looked. There are opportunities throughout the week to pose as people in Paul’s community. Even if you can only volunteer for a day or two, we will gladly find a role for you.

Leaders and Assistants are needed for the following:

Apprenticeship Games – need 2 volunteers

Market Shopkeepers - Grammaticus, Carpentry, Architecture, Wreathmaking, and more (easy crafts)

Roman Family leaders – need 6 to 8 volunteers

Drama Team :

- Brutus – Paul’s Roman guard
- Festus – an athlete
- Tullius – a male slave
- Senator Atticus – a man
- Two Roman Soldiers – men
- Severus – architect
- Marcus – a man
- Claudia – a woman food shop proprietor
- Thief – a young person

Junia – a woman metal worker

We will want to “dress the part,” so there’s plenty of preparation needed to get folks into costume, which will include, togas, robes, and Roman guard armor. Check your Halloween boxes for articles that might fit our needs.

Three to four planning meetings will be held; please watch Sunday Bulletin for more info.

Your ideas and suggestions are important, so the invitation is open for everyone to join in the planning process.

We have much to do to get to Rome by July 20th!

Please search your heart and volunteer for something that sounds like fun.

I can assure you, it will be! Janet Hula, Rome’s Ultimate Director

News from the Families of Grace Lutheran Church

A word of Thanks

Dear Sisters and Brothers of Grace

Thank you so much for the wonderful graduation party. It was such a perfect day. Thank you also for the lovely pewter cross, the inspirational plaque, the miniature roses and balloon bouquet. Everything was amazing! I am so glad that God has placed me here for my internship, you are such a blessing. Thank you again for being a source of happiness and support for me and my family. Blessings to you.

Vicar Angela.

THANK YOU

Dear Friends,

I want to express my deepest appreciation for the wonderful love and care you shared with me on the occasion of my 30th Anniversary of Ordination. The meal was delicious! The cards were very warm and touching! I am blessed and you are all a part of this wonderful blessing. Thank You! Pastor Laaker

Wednesday Night Faith Quest

Thank You! Thank You! Wednesday Faith Quest has taken a break for the summer. Our first year of providing an educational experience apart from Sunday morning has been a wonderful blessing. We are deeply thankful for all those that helped by providing food for our simple meals, leadership for the weekly interest groups, musical talents that helped our singing, prayers that anchored us well in the grace of God.

We had a high in participation with 40 children and twenty adults. Our low was fifteen children and four adults. Creativity ran high with capable leaders and willing students. Truly God was glorified as we studied, shared our talents, and lifted our voices.

We hope you'll take this time to thank God! We also hope you'll consider lending a hand in middle August as we once again gather for Wednesday Faith Quest.

Latinas in Action Participants Celebrate Milestones Together!

One of the many blessings about my work with Latinas in Action is getting to share in the special celebrations of our participants and their families. This month, several of Interfaith's Latinas in Action families were invited to a fabulous celebration for Abbey (the daughter of Maria, and sister of Veronica, both of whom have participated in our Interfaith group for over two years). Abbey is a proud 2009 graduate of Bryan High School and her mom is quite possibly the most proud "parent of the graduate" that I have encountered this year. In the best of all possible ways.

Maria rented out the entire hall of a restaurant in South Omaha, just off 24th street for Abbey's celebration, and not one chair in the entire hall was empty. Friends, relatives, co-workers and Latinas in Action participants all arrived to congratulate Abbey and her mom and dad, while the dinner and dancing went on until midnight. Gema and her family and my family and I were so honored to be in attendance. It isn't every day that we are blessed in being welcomed into a family and a celebration the way we were welcomed by Maria. She took a lot of time to sit with us at our table and ask about our lives, even though she had many people to see. She also helped ensure that Abbey, dressed in her graduation cap, personally spoke with us upon arrival and escorted us to a table, and walked us to the door upon our exit.

Perhaps one of the many reasons Maria is proud of Abbey is that Abbey won a state-wide scholarship for an essay on her desire to attend college and the desire to learn instilled in her by her primary role model, her mom. When I pressed Maria, a woman of great humility when it comes to her own accomplishments, she promised to bring a copy of Abbey's essay to the next Latinas in Action class to share it with our participants. I asked Maria if I could write an article about the graduation fiesta for our Interfaith newsletters and she said "only if you change my name. But my daughter's name, you don't have to change. I am so proud of her. What a blessing to have a daughter who has accomplished so much." And I, in turn, am equally blessed by Maria and all of our participants who have such a commitment to learning within Interfaith's programs.

Top Ten Caddy Comments

Golfer: "Think I'm going to drown myself in the lake."

Caddy: "Think you can keep your head down that long?"

Golfer: "I'd move heaven and earth to break 100 on this course."

Caddy: "Try heaven, you've already moved most of the earth."

Golfer: "Do you think my game is improving?"

Caddy: "Yes sir, you miss the ball much closer now."

Golfer: "You've got to be the worst caddy in the world."

Caddy: "I don't think so sir. That would be too much of a coincidence."

Golfer: "Please stop checking your watch all the time. It's too much of a distraction."

Caddy: "It's not a watch - it's a compass."

Golfer: "Do you think I can get there with a 5 iron?"

Caddy: "Eventually."

Golfer: "How do you like my game?"

Caddy: "Very good sir, but personally, I prefer golf."

Golfer: "Do you think it's a sin to play on Sunday?"

Caddy: "The way you play, sir, it's a sin on any day."

Golfer: "This is the worst course I've ever played on."

Caddy: "This isn't the golf course. We left that an hour ago."

Golfer: "That can't be my ball, it's too old."

Caddy: "It's been a long time since we teed off, sir."

A fellow computer programmer asked for my help in putting new software into operation. At first, he handled most of the work. Eventually, though, he asked me to help with the last phase of the training. When I sat down with one woman and told her I would be showing her how to make changes to the files, she sighed with relief. "I'm so glad you're teaching me instead of him." Surprised, I said that my colleague was far more experienced than I was. "Yes," she said, "but I feel much more comfortable with you. I get nervous around really smart people."
